

All criminal cases that are set for Jury Trial will also have a final pre-trial setting. All matters that the State or defendant request a pre-trial ruling on must be filed at least 7 days prior to the final pre-trial hearing. Any such matter not filed seven days before the final pre-trial hearing will not thereafter be allowed to be raised or filed, except by permission of the court for good cause shown provided that the defendant shall have not less than 10 days in which to file such preliminary motions.

Matters that must be filed at least 7 days prior to final pre-trial include:

Exceptions to the form or substance of the information.

Motions for continuance either by the State or defendant; provided that grounds for continuance not existing or not known at the time may be presented and considered at any time before the defendant announces ready for trial.

Motions to suppress evidence including motions to redact portions of the audio or videotape.

Motions for Discovery.

Motion for appointment of interpreter.
